Treasurer of Washington Fiorists' Club Starts Speechmaking with Introduction of President Vincent, of Maryland Horticultural Society, Who Makes Interesting Address.

The Washington Florists' Club held a crab feast at the Eagles' clubhouse last night Besides the crustaceans and their accompaniments, the florists heard a report from the flower show committee and listened to interesting trade and other talks from distinguished guests.

The flower show committee reported that arrangements had been made for 10,500 square feet of space at Convention Hall with the management of the National Manufacturers and Householders Show, October 24 to November 5. A design in oil was shown on an easel. It represents Fushini, the sacred mountain of Japan, jutting over an effulg moon On the left is a waterfall, in the center a sacred temple, to the right a pagoda, where tea will be served, a lake, and other concomitants of a Japanese pano-

MORE INFANTS AFFECTED.

Two New Paralysis Cases Reported to Health Officer.

Two new cases of infantile paralysis were reported to the health department fourteen months old, respectively. There Gordan with a toast on "Charity." are only ten cases on record, but it is estimated that there are probably 500 in the District.

Dr. S. Clifford Cox, who is in charge of Pitcher Hinrichs' case, said yesterday that the disease, which is unusual in its character, will undoubtedly run its course. Unless it is officially reported that Hinrichs is affected with infantile paralysis, Health Officer Woodward stated that no investigation will be made by his department. At a late hour last night Hinrichs' condition was unchanged. This disease seldoms affects adults.

WEATHER CONDITIONS.

Washington, Tuesday, August 2-8 p. m.

Low pressure over the Plains States, the Missouri and Upper Mississippi valleys was responsible for a continuation of high temperatures over those districts during Tuesday, as well as for a further rise from the Dakotas southward through Texas. Temperatures above 100 degrees occurred in Southern Kansas, Oklahoma, and Interior Texas, with a maximum at Oklahoma City of 106 degrees. Temperatures alightly above the seasonal average were also general over the remainder of the country, except in New England, the extreme Northwest, and on the Pacific Coast.

PRINCE NOT TO RETIRE

Naval Officer's Application Denied by Winthrop.

SAILS TO MANILA AUGUST 12

Assistant Quartermaster of Marine Corps Denied Right to Escape from Unpleasant Duty by Assistant Secretary Winthrop-Col. Frank L. Denny Ordered to San Francisco.

Acting Secretary of the Navy Winthrop yesterday disapproved the application of Lieut. Col. Thomas C. Prince, assistant quartermaster of the Marine Corps, for voluntary retirement under the thirty-years service law.

As a result Lieut. Col. Prince will be bliged to comply with his orders to proceed to Manila to assume duty as quartermaster of the first brigade of marines there. He will sail from San Francisco on August 12

Lieut. Col. Prince was one of the officers who was reprimanded by Acting Secretary Winthrop following a naval court of inquiry into conditions existing at the Marine Corps headquarters here. During a former period of duty in the tropics he suffered an attack of dengue fever, and his physicians advised against his return to the Philippines.

Discretion of Department. It was said that Mr. Winthrop felt that an officer of the Marine Corps should not be allowed to escape an unpleasant duty by applying for retirement. It was explained that voluntary retirement may be permitted within the discretion of the department. An officer, it was added, had no absolute right to voluntary retire-

A discretionary power, it was said, was vested in the Navy Department either to allow him to retire by approving his retirement or to require him to remain on the active list by disapproving his application. Naval medical officers also reported that the proposed duty would not endanger his health.

Col. Frank L. Denny, quartermaster of the corps, who has been ordered to San Francisco to assume charge of the depot quartermaster's office in that city, will leave Washington the latter part of this week. He has been allowed an extension of several months in which to take the annual physical test required of officers of the Marine Corps. Medical officers declined to allow him to take the test, as they held he was not in proper trim to stand the strain.

Col. William P. Biddle, acting commandant of the Marine Corps, recommended that Col. Denny be ordered before a retiring board. This recommendation was turned down. Col. Denny will be allowed several months in which to take the physical test.
